My First Trip Away From Home Was To Woodstock...

Grateful For The Lifelong Lessons I Learned There

Rev. Violet Young

A few years ago after I had done many back to back readings in my Pathways booth I took a break. After I stopped I noticed I was hungry. While working with clients I had been sustained by spiritual energy and had such a feeling of elation I felt like I was floating. Working with Spirit creates an overwhelming feeling of positive energy, lightness and unconditional love. Thinking about it days later, I connected that with the energy that I experienced at Woodstock when I was 19 and realized that it was the same. On the 50th Anniversary of Woodstock I've decided to share the valuable life lessons I learned on my first trip away from home. When I think about the serendipitous way that I ended up going to Woodstock, I know I was led there for a greater purpose.

Going to the beach was routine for my immediate family but my cousins had NEVER come along until this mid July day in 1969. My cousin Sharon and I were listening to the radio when we heard several ads for The Woodstock Music & Arts Festival. (I grew up in a sheltered existence, had never been away from home alone or gone camping. I was unfamiliar with most of the stars that were appearing). Suddenly my cousin whispered, "We should buy tickets and go!" I was stunned but agreed.

We bought the tickets and then told our folks that we were going. My cousin's dad bought us orange heavy plastic pup tents. We went by train to New York and by bus to Woodstock. The bus driver stopped at a field when he could go no further. We walked towards the Festival site along with massive amounts of people. Eventually, crossing over some downed fences, we found ourselves at the top of the ridge overlooking the concert stage, arriving as Richie Havens, Arlo Guthrie and Joan Baez were performing.

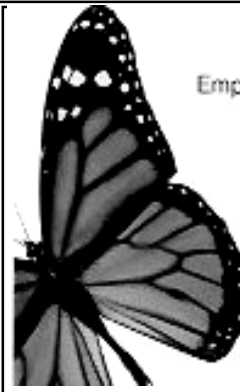

We found a spot for our tents and went to sleep. In the morning, I discovered Sharon had moved. She had pinned a note to my tent saying she had moved closer to the stage and I'd find her by the orange tent. The same tents were being sold at the event and there was now a sea of orange. After a search, I found her. We spent the next couple of days on that spot enjoying the music, absorbing the atmosphere, meeting cool people and listening to the now famous announcements about it being a free concert, the New York Thruway being closed and breakfast in bed for 500,000.

Here we were with 500,000 people at an event where they had been expecting several thousand. The crowd was a very disparate mix of ages and races. We were all crowded together on this hillside looking at a performance stage with incredible music but were packed in like sardines. We couldn't move without bumping into someone. Did I mention the rain....and the fact that the event was taking place in a cow pasture? During the weekend, we did move a bit closer to the stage because everyone slid several feet with the help of the mud!

What amazed me was the kindness of everyone, the sharing of food and covers to help shield from the rain; the resiliency and simple joy everyone had without bemoaning the conditions. And the love...the sheer, amazing outpouring of unconditional love that I saw with my own eyes and felt with my own heart although at that time I had no name for the feeling. There was no fear. Working in Boston riding subways, I was taught how to hold onto my purse, to be wary of anyone who was "different" and to fear being in large crowds. But here, in difficult conditions with bad weather, extreme heat, not much food, crowded all together...all I experienced was cooperation, kindness and "love".

The lessons I learned at home about kindness were made larger at Woodstock and the lessons of inclusion that I wasn't learning at home were taught to me there. I was submerged in an ocean of unconditional love for the most important weekend of my life. For me it wasn't about the music. For me it was about being shown and feeling a bit of what heaven feels like. I learned more about the importance of compassion, kindness, awareness of the needs of others, consciousness to see a larger world. I saw how effective it is to selflessly work with others. I took all these gifts home with me.

The Woodstock Lessons: Be kind everywhere you go. Notice someone in need and help. Know your neighbors. When you meet people you perceive as different discover connections. People are often in pain, both emotional and physical; it affects how they operate their lives. Ask questions, don't assume you know what

Change by Rev. Violet Young

Change is just change

And nothing more.

If you mix change with fear

It shuts the growth door.

Discover you're worthy

Of change without fear.

Following your bliss

Is what brings God near.

Discover your worth

And you can uncover,

The strength to take risks

And be like none other.

Won/One

I Won, You Won, We Won.

I One, You One, We One.

And when we are all One,

Then we will have all Won.

someone's dealing with. Be compassionate. People in difficult situations need emotional support and sometimes don't know how to ask for it, including yourself. Remember, the tables of fortune can be turned, think of how you would hope to be treated if that should happen.

I know I was drawn to attend the largest outpouring of unconditional love ever on the planet so that I would get the lessons and use them for the rest of my life. I made button that says across the top My First Trip Away From Home Was To Woodstock, at the bottom it says...Still There. It's THE best place to be. Happy 50th Anniversary Woodstock and Thank You.

MAY THE LIGHT OF LOVE

David Roth is one of my favorite singer/songwriters. The words to his song May The Light of Love capture the essence of my feelings and are reprinted with his permission.

As we come around to take our places at the table
A moment to remember and reflect upon our wealth
Here's to loving friends and family, Here's to being able
To gather here together in good company and health

May we be released from all those feelings that would harm us
May we have the will to give them up and get them gone
For heavy are the satchels full of anger and false promise
May we have the strength to put them down

May we wish the best for everyone that we encounter
May we swallow pride and may we do away with fear
For it's only what we do not know that we have grown afraid of
And only what we do not choose to hear

As we bless our daily bread and drink our day's libations
May we be reminded of the lost and wayward soul
The hungry and the homeless that we have in every nation
May we fill each empty cup and bowl

May nothing ever come between or threaten to divide us
May we never take for granted all the gifts that we receive
Being ever mindful of the unseen hands that guide us
And the miracles that cause us the believe

May the light of love be shining deep within your spirit
May the torch of mercy clear the path and show the way
May the horn of plenty sound so everyone can hear it
May the light of love be with you every day.

Decide to Forgive

Decide to forgive
For resentment is negative
Resentment is poisonous
Resentment diminishes
And devours the self.
Be the first to forgive,
To smile and to take the first step.
And you will see happiness bloom
On the face of your human brother or sister
Be always the first
Do not wait for others to forgive
For by forgiving
You become the master of fate
The fashioner of life
The doer of miracles.
To forgive is the highest,
Most beautiful form of love.
In return you will receive
Untold peace and happiness.
Robert Muller

The Great Invocation

*From the point of Light within the Mind of God
Let light stream forth into the minds of men.
Let Light descend on Earth.*

*From the point of Love within the Heart of God
Let love stream forth into the hearts of men.
May Christ return to Earth.*

*From the centre where the Will of God is known
Let purpose guide the little wills of men -
The purpose which the Masters know and serve.*

*From the centre which we call the race of men
Let the Plan of Love and light work out
And may it seal the door where evil dwells.*

Let Light and Love and Power restore the Plan on Earth.

THE PRAYER OF SAINT FRANCIS OF ASSISI

Lord,
 Make me an instrument of thy peace.
 Where there is hatred let me sow love;
 Where there is injury, pardon;
 Where there is doubt, faith;
 Where there is despair, hope;
 Where there is darkness, light; and
 Where there is sadness, joy.

O Divine Master,
 Grant that I may not so much
 Seek to be consoled as to console;
 To be understood as to understand;
 To be loved as to love;
 For it is in giving that we receive;
 It is in pardoning that we are pardoned, and
 It is in dying that we are born to eternal life.
